

Abstract

Use of sonocrystallisation particularly for triglyceride fat fractionation and for the manufacture of W/O-emulsion spreads. The sonocrystallisation is used in the absence of transient cavitation so that adverse sonochemistry is avoided.

[illegible]